ARIZONA ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Mr. Nugent:

An examination of the basic science laws as enacted by the legislature, special session, 1936, discloses that the only way such persons as you mentioned might be qualified to practice is in such manner as is set forth in the act.

Section 5 of the Act provides for examinations. Section 8 provides for certification without examination. In Section 8 if the person making the application was regularly licensed or registered to practice healing in the manner provided by law at that time by whatever board the license may have been granted, might on or before September 1, 1937, by making application to the secretary of the board for certificate of registration, and a proper showing that he was authorized to practice healing or regularly licensed or registered according to law in the particular branch or system of healing by him pursued, together with other necessary data therein mentioned, and the payment of the fee of $3.00, receive a certificate.

Section 8 further provides that any person entitled to a certificate of registration in the basic sciences without examination, as before provided, who did not apply on or before September 1, 1937, might upon the same proceedings and the payment of $25.00, receive a certificate if a showing of good cause for failure to make the application prior to the first day of September accompanies the application.

If therefore, chiropradists were licensed by any board of examiners to practice their particular art of healing in the State of Arizona prior to November 27, 1936, they could now be given a certificate under the basic science law by proceeding under Section 8 of said law.

Very truly yours,

JOE CONWAY
Attorney General
